From New York City:

Take New Jersey Turnpike to Exit 4. Then take 295-South
Follow 295-South until you see signs for Philadelphia. Signs will say 676 or 76 towards Philadelphia. The road you will be taking is actually 42-North, although the highway signs do not say this until you are further along on the road.

Take 42-North directly to Walt Whitman Bridge.

Exit at Broad Street (Exit 45).

At end of exit ramp, turn right on to Broad Street.

Continue straight up Broad Street approximately 10 blocks.

Continue on Broad Street to Jackson Street.

Make a left on to Jackson Street (Rita's Water Ice on the left).

Go to the second stop sign and turn right on to 16th Street.

Continue on 16th Street through the first light at the intersection.

(Melrose Diner will be on your far right.

"Model Nails" will be straight ahead on the left.)

Continue on 16th Street to the first stop sign, which is McKean Street.

Turn left on to McKean Street.

You will be approaching a business/residential area of row houses mixed in with auto body and mechanic's shops.

Continue on McKean Street, passing 17th Street.

We are one-half block immediately past 17th Street on your right.

You will see our sign directly ahead.

Turn right into a cobblestoned courtyard.

The building is straight ahead at the very far end of the courtyard.

You will be entering the building to your slight left.

Ring the bell at the sign where it reads "Ring Bell for Service."
